Grievance Redressal is a management and communication related process used commonly in India. While the term "Grievance Redressal" primarily covers the receipt and processing of complaints from customers and consumers, a wider definition includes actions taken on any issue raised by them to avoid services more effectively.

The traditional approach to Grievance Redressal, which is handled through letters and complaint forms, has very little impact and its usage rarely reflects the actual state of customer satisfaction or work done-out. However, new internet based approaches used by the government and more by private organizations.
